C.A. No. 2:25-cv-00405-RMG-MGB

DEFENDANTS' MOTION TO COMPEL
PLAINTIFF'S DISCOVERY RESPONSES

Pursuant to Rules 34 and 37 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Local Civil Rule 37.01, Defendants Curtiss Wright Electro-Mechanical Corporation, Stephanie Lanier, and Shanie Sablitsky (collectively "Defendants"), by and through their undersigned counsel, respectfully submit this Motion to Compel Plaintiff's Discovery Responses. Because the arguments for Defendants' Motion are fully set forth below, no separate supporting Memorandum is attached pursuant to Local Civ. R. 7.04. Pursuant to Local Civ. R. 7.02, prior to filing this Motion, counsel for Defendants consulted with Plaintiff to resolve this dispute and avoid this Motion, but Plaintiff has failed to supplement her discovery responses or otherwise cure these deficiencies.

A. Introduction and Relevant Background.

This is an employment dispute. Plaintiff Debra Nelson ("Plaintiff") is a former employee of Curtiss Wright who alleges that Curtiss Wright discriminated against her based on race, sex, and age, and retaliated against her in violation of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, 42 U.S.C. § 2000e, et seq. (“Title VII”), 42 U.S.C. §1981A, and the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, 29 U.S.C. § 623. Plaintiff is proceeding pro se.

Defendants served Plaintiff with Defendants’ First Requests for Production and Defendants’ First Set of Interrogatories (collectively “Defendants’ Discovery Requests”) on September 22, 2025, true and accurate copies of which are attached as Exhibits A and B. Accordingly, Plaintiff’s responses to those requests were due by October 22, 2025. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 33(b)(2), 33(b)(2)(a). Plaintiff did not serve responses by October 22, 2025. On October 23, 2025, Defense Counsel reminded Plaintiff that her discovery responses were due on October 22, 2025, and asked her to advise Defense Counsel when she would serve these responses. On October 23, 2023, Plaintiff responded to Defense Counsel representing that she was traveling to serve subpoenas but would complete her responses upon her return. On October 23, 2025, Plaintiff served her Responses to Defendants’ First Requests for Production, a true and correct copy is attached as Exhibit C. On October 25, 2025, Plaintiff served her Responses to Defendants’ First Set of Interrogatories, a true and correct copy is attached as Exhibit D.

Plaintiff’s responses to Defendants’ First Requests for Production and First Set of Interrogatories (collectively, “Plaintiff’s Discovery Responses”) contain numerous baseless and inappropriate objections. For example, Plaintiff objects to each request to the extent it seeks documents protected by attorney-client privilege, despite the fact that none of the requests seek such information, and Plaintiff is not represented by counsel. Plaintiff’s only substantive production in response to Defendants’ discovery requests consists of nine letters (totaling approximately 100 pages, roughly 80 of which are exhibits to a single letter) she wrote and sent to President Biden and the heads of various federal agencies following her termination.

Plaintiff has routinely moved for discovery sanctions and has prematurely filed motions to compel against Defendants, despite the fact that between September 12, 2025, and October 30, 2025, Defendants have responded to five sets of written discovery and have produced over 1,400 pages of documents. In addition, Defendants have produced ten individuals for depositions.

B. Providing Documents to the Court on a Flash Drive Does Not Satisfy Plaintiff's Discovery Obligations.

Plaintiff responds to two of Defendants' requests for production by stating that the documents have been provided to the Court on a flash drive and are, therefore, accessible to Defendants. These records include purported evidence of cyber intrusions, purported evidence of surveillance, whistleblower complaints, administrative complaints, and correspondence with others regarding allegations in this lawsuit. Plaintiff refuses to produce a copy of these records to Defendants, and contrary to her assertion, these records are not accessible to Defendants.¹ Plaintiff evidently concedes that these documents are relevant because she provided them to the Court, but she has failed to satisfy her discovery obligations and should be directed to provide a copy of the documents submitted to the Court to Defendants.

C. Plaintiff's Communications with other Current and Former Curtiss Wright Employees Are Discoverable.

In response to Request for Production No. 1, Plaintiff claims she has produced all responsive communications with individuals regarding this lawsuit and asserts that her conversations with Jeff Womack are the only communications she has had with third parties. However, Plaintiff has repeatedly represented to Defense Counsel—most recently on

October 19—that she obtained information about events and individuals involved in this case, often to induce concessions from Defense Counsel under threat of involving the Court. To the extent such communications exist, they have not been produced. Further, Plaintiff has failed to produce a complete copy of her text messages with Jeff Womack, as portions of the conversations are cut off. Plaintiff testified that she communicated with Jeff Womack about this case, and, as such, these communications are relevant. They are especially relevant in that Plaintiff has identified Womack as a person who has knowledge of the underlying facts supporting her claims.

D. The Court Should Compel Plaintiff to Produce Documents Relevant to Her Damages Claims.

Many of Defendants' requests bear directly on Plaintiff's alleged damages. Plaintiff has failed to produce any documents to support her damages claims. These requests and Plaintiff's deficient responses are reproduced below for the Court's reference.

REQUEST NO. 6: Produce all documents supporting your allegations that Defendants' actions resulted in monetary damages (including, but not limited to, lost wages, loss of future wages, lost benefits, loss of future benefits, and litigation expenses) to you.

Plaintiff's Response: Attorney fees $2,250; consultation fees totaling $650; lost wages from 11/15/2023 to 3/15/2024 $22,781.44. These amounts are estimates based on records available and will be supplemented as discovery continues.

REQUEST NO. 7: Produce all documents relating to or supporting your allegations that Defendants' actions resulted in your suffering mental and emotional distress.

Plaintiff's Response: Plaintiff can request a letter from her therapist to support claims of emotional distress.

REQUEST NO. 8: Produce all documents referring to, reflecting, evidencing, or commenting on your physical, mental, or emotional health or condition since April 2022 to present, including, but not limited to, all opinions, reports, communications, and files from present or prior physicians, psychiatrists, psychologists, social workers, therapists, clergy, counselors, or any other professional commenting on your physical, mental, or emotional healthy, including tests, test results, or evaluation reports for any tests taken, and statements of charges for services rendered.

Plaintiff's Response: Plaintiff objects that the requests seek confidential medical information not relevant or proportional to the needs of this case and protected by HIPAA. Plaintiff will provide a summary letter from her therapist in lieu of medical records.

REQUEST NO. 9: Produce signed copies of the psychotherapy records authorization form and medical records authorization form attached as Attachments A and B.

Plaintiff's Response: See Response to No. 8.

REQUEST NO. 11: Produce all documents which reflect income, compensation, and/or earnings of any kind received by you from November 2023 through present, including documents showing wages, salary, and benefits; independent contractor income; unemployment compensation benefits; insurance payments; disability benefits; retirement benefits; annuity; pension; or any other payments you received.

Plaintiff's Response: Plaintiff objects as overly broad and intrusive. Plaintiff has been employed since March 18, 2024, and does not possess additional responsive income or compensation records related to this action. Plaintiff will supplement if any become available.

REQUEST NO. 12: Produce each federal and state income tax return (including W-2 forms, 1099 forms, schedules, and attachments) that you filed or intend to file from 2022 through present.

Plaintiff's Response: Plaintiff objects that this request seeks private financial records not relevant or proportional to the needs of this case. No responsive tax returns will be produced absent a protective order. Plaintiff reserves the right to supplement if ordered by the Court.

Interrogatory No. 5: Identify all sources of income you received since your last day of employment with Defendant Curtiss-Wright, whether via employment, short-term or long-term disability benefits, social security benefits, workers' compensation benefits, unemployment benefits, self-employment, independent contractor income, insurance payments, retirement benefits, government subsidies, or some other source, and include the amount received and the dates when you received such income.

Plaintiff's Response: Plaintiff received unemployment benefits and may have cashed in her retirement account, to be verified. Any other sources of income are irrelevant.

Interrogatory No. 15: Identify all legal entities that you own, operate, or participate as a member in, including but not limited to Nelson Funding Group, LLC.

Plaintiff's Response: Plaintiff objects as irrelevant and intrusive. Nelson Funding Group, LLC, and other entities have no relation to this case.

Plaintiff seeks monetary damages for lost wages and compensatory damages, but yet she objects to producing any information regarding her sources of income since her employment with Curtiss Wright ended, including her current employment. Plaintiff asserts that these records are irrelevant, overbroad, or intrusive. However, such documents are directly related to the amount of her lost wages and her mitigation efforts. See, e.g., McLelland v. City of N. Myrtle Beach, 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 138950, *3-4 (D.S.C. Sept. 4, 2009) (rejecting plaintiff's objection to producing documents showing his income from five years prior to his employer's alleged unlawful action against him because his "income stream would be relevant to the issue of economic damages flowing from his alleged loss of salary."); Canales v. OPW Fueling Components LLC, 2025 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 29918 (E.D.N.C. February 18, 2025) (granting motion to compel production of Plaintiff's tax returns and related documents because Plaintiff's income from all sources is relevant to his claims for lost earnings); EEOC v. Sheffield Fin. LLC, 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 43070, *12-19 (M.D.N.C. June 13, 2007) (granting motion to compel production of plaintiff's medical records because they were relevant to his request for compensatory damages for medical problems allegedly caused by defendant's discriminatory conduct).

Plaintiff also seeks emotional distress damages, but she objects to producing any medical information related to her mental health. She asserts that such information is not relevant or proportional to the needs of the case and has refused to sign medical releases. However, Plaintiff's mental health records are highly relevant, for, as she testified during her deposition, emotional distress damages represent the primary form of damages that she seeks in this case. (Fourth Amended Complaint, ECF No. 79, p. 18.) These records are central to evaluating the nature and extent of the damages she alleges and are discoverable.

E. Plaintiff's Communications with Government Agencies Related to Her Claims Are Discoverable.

Plaintiff objected to Defendants' request that she produce all documents she provided to or received from, and all communications she had with, the Office of the Naval Inspector General related to complaints she filed against Curtiss Wright. Plaintiff objected on the basis that the request is "irrelevant to the claims or defenses in this matter." This objection is not made in good faith. Plaintiff's complaint to the Office of the Naval Inspector General forms the basis of her Title VII retaliation claim and her whistleblower retaliation claim. These documents are not only relevant—they are central to Plaintiff's claims.

F. Plaintiff's Resume Is Relevant and Discoverable.

In her second and third causes of action, Plaintiff alleges wage discrimination, claiming she was more experienced and qualified than a white male comparator but was paid less. Her own work history and qualifications bear directly on this issue. Nevertheless, Plaintiff objected to Defendants' request for her current resume—a single, identifiable document—on the grounds that it was "overly broad" and sought information "for the purpose of harassment." This objection is improper given the relevance of the resume to Plaintiff's qualifications and experience, which are central to her claims. Iannucci v. Rite Aid Corp., No. 1:11-CV-281, 2012 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 102448, 2012 WL 3019953, at *4 (W.D.N.C. July 24, 2012) (finding that a plaintiff's subsequent and prior employment history are relevant in an employment discrimination case and allowing discovery of prior and subsequent employment history, information and documents regarding salary and resumes submitted to prospective employers, any discipline, termination, or demotion in connection with the employers identified during the relevant time period, and information related to any sources of income plaintiff received), aff'd, 512 Fed. Appx. 365 (4th Cir. 2013); Cole v. Saks, Inc., No. 5:06-CV-229-F, 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 76072, 2007 WL 2997453, at *7 (E.D.N.C. Oct. 12, 2007) ("Plaintiff's current employment, his current earnings, and his job search efforts are all directly relevant to the issue of damages in an employment discrimination action. Moreover, the court is not aware of any constitutional 'privilege' that enables Plaintiff to refuse to divulge information regarding his current employment.).

G. Plaintiff's Social Media Posts Are Relevant and Discoverable.

In response to Defendants' interrogatory requesting identification of her social media accounts, Plaintiff objected on relevance grounds. It is undisputed that Plaintiff has posted at least one video about her employment with Curtiss Wright on social media, and, even if her posts do not bear directly on her employment, they are evidence of her current physical and mental condition. Further, Plaintiff has placed her own social media accounts at issue in this case by serving multiple discovery requests on Defendants seeking information regarding the viewing and monitoring of such accounts. See Plaintiff's Amended Deposition Notice, attached as Exhibit E. For this additional reason, her social media accounts are relevant and discoverable.

H. Defendants Are Entitled to Attorney's Fees and Costs Incurred in Bringing this Motion And Additional Relief Against Plaintiff.

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 37 provides that, if a court grants a motion to compel, the court must award the movant's reasonable expenses incurred in bringing the motion including attorney's fees unless (1) the movant filed the motion before attempting in good faith to obtain the discovery without court action, (2) the non-movant's objection to the discovery in question was substantially justified, or (3) other circumstances would make an award of expenses unjust. Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(a)(5)(A). None of those exceptions apply here.

As discussed above, prior to filing this Motion, Defendant conferred with Plaintiff in good faith. On November 3, 2025, Defendants served Plaintiff with a deficiency letter regarding Plaintiff's Discovery Requests and gave Plaintiff an opportunity to cure such defects. A true and correct copy of this deficiency letter is attached as Exhibit F. Nevertheless, Plaintiff elected not to supplement any of her clearly deficient responses, which necessitated this Motion. Further, as the foregoing demonstrates, Plaintiff's objections to Defendants' discovery requests border on frivolous. For instance, Plaintiff objected to producing documents on the basis of attorney-client privilege, even though she is proceeding pro se. Likewise, Plaintiff objected to producing a copy of her resume as too burdensome, even though her experience and credentials bear directly on her discrimination claims.

Such baseless objections reveal Plaintiff's attitude toward discovery: in her view, discovery is a one-way street with Defendants devoting dozens of hours to responding to multiple sets of discovery requests; whereas she largely gets off without any burden by simply referring to a flash drive of files that she submitted to the Court. Plaintiff evidently believes that Defendants are only entitled to the evidence that she believes they should have, regardless of its relevance to this lawsuit or what the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure state about its discoverability. As discussed above, one party may not unilaterally decide what information is relevant to a lawsuit. Further, this Court and other courts have held routinely that the information Defendants seek is relevant and discoverable in an employment lawsuit such as this case. See, e.g., Lynch v. Novant Med. Group

Inc., 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 81478 (W.D.N.C. September 8, 2009). Accordingly, an award to Defendants of their attorney's fees and expenses incurred to remedy Plaintiff's misconduct is merited.

Furthermore, to the extent Plaintiff fails to produce the requested documentation concerning her emotional distress and/or financial and compensation history, Defendants ask that the Court strike Plaintiff's claim for emotional distress damages from the Amended Complaint and bar Plaintiff from claiming any such damages at the trial of this case. Similarly, Defendants ask that the Court bar Plaintiff from supporting claims with evidence that she has failed to produce to Defendants in responses to these discovery requests.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, Defendants respectfully requests that the Court order Plaintiff to respond fully and without objection to each of the discovery requests discussed above. Defendants also respectfully ask that the Court instruct Plaintiff that if she continues to fail to respond to discovery that it will strike her request for damages. Defendants further request that the Court order Plaintiff to pay Defendants' attorney's fees and expenses incurred in making this Motion, which was necessitated by Plaintiff's discovery abuses.

Re: Debra Nelson v. Curtiss Wright Electro Mechanical Corp. et al.
Case No. 2:25-cv-00405-RMG-MGB

Ms. Nelson:

We are writing to address the deficiencies in your production and responses to Defendants' First Requests for Production and First Set of Interrogatories that were served on you on September 22, 2025, and were due on October 22, 2025. We received your responses on October 23 and October 25. Your responses are deficient and we ask that you promptly supplement them or we will file a motion to compel with the Court.

In the last month alone, Defendants have timely responded to four sets of written discovery—a fifth is on the way—and produced eight witnesses for deposition; and you had filed multiple motions with the court, some prematurely, seeking documents that Defendants do not possess and to produce witnesses that you have been advised are on leave. Defendants have expended significant resources and effort to comply with your discovery requests in a timely manner.

Now, in response to Defendants' first set of routine discovery requests, not only were your responses served late, but you have objected to producing documents without a good faith basis. For example, you contend that producing a copy of your current resume is "overly broad and seeking information for the purposes of harassment." There is no good faith basis to claim that requesting your current resume, a single document, is "overbroad;" and because a central claim of this lawsuit is that you were discriminated against because a white male comparator was promoted and paid more than you despite the fact that you were more qualified and had more experience, asking for your current resume as evidence of that experience and qualifications is not harassment. You objected to each request on the basis of attorney-client privilege despite the fact that no request seeks privileged information and you are not represented by an attorney. You have also objected to producing financial and medical documentation on the basis that such information is private even though such information is necessary to evidence your damages claims. There is no legitimate reason to withhold this information which speaks directly to your claims.

Please consider this deficiency letter as our good faith attempt to meet and confer as required by Rule 37(a)(1). Please supplement these deficient responses by 12:00pm on November 5, 2025, to cure these deficiencies to avoid a Motion to Compel.

I have outlined below the deficiencies in each of your responses.

REQUEST NO. 1: Produce copies of any communications or documents between you and any person (except for your prior attorney) regarding the claims and allegations in your lawsuit. This request includes, but is not limited to, emails from your personal email account(s), text messages from your phone, messages on social media, and any documents exchanged.

Your Response: All responsive communications and recordings are already produced and filed at ECF 177 and ECF 40.

You have claimed multiple times that you have received information about witnesses and other information in this lawsuit. Most recently on Sunday, October 19, you stated you received information about Jeff Womack returning to work, which was incorrect, and threatened to file a second Motion to Compel if he was not produced for deposition. Such communications (and any others you have had with individuals about your claims in this lawsuit) are relevant and should be produced.

REQUEST NO. 3: Produce all audio and video recordings that relate to your employment with Defendant Curtiss-Wright or your claims in this lawsuit.

Your Response: All responsive communications and recordings are already produced and filed at ECF 40.

Defendants do not have access to the flash drive that you sent the Court. We have contacted the Court to request a copy and are advised that the Court will not make a copy and also will not release the flash drive because you've submitted it to the Court. You are obligated to maintain these files and to produce them when requested directly to Defendants. You cannot avoid discovery by putting documents outside of your possession. To the extent that you do not have other copies of the documents on that flash drive, it is your responsibility to retrieve your property from the Court and produce the documents and media contained on the flash drive to Defendants in response to this Request.

REQUEST NO. 6: Produce all documents supporting your allegations that Defendants' actions resulted in monetary damages (including, but not limited to, lost wages, loss of future wages, lost benefits, loss of future benefits, and litigation expenses) to you.

Your Response: Attorney fees $2,250; consultation fees totaling $650; lost wages from 11/15/2023 to 3/15/2024 $22,781.44. These amounts are estimates based on records available and will be supplemented as discovery continues.

Thank you for providing these numbers. However, the Request asks for documents supporting those figures. To the extent that you have receipts, bills, or statements of work showing that you have incurred these expenses, those are examples of documents that should be produced in response to this Request.

REQUEST NO. 7: Produce all documents relating to or supporting your allegations that Defendants' actions resulted in your suffering mental and emotional distress.

Your Response: Plaintiff can request a letter from her therapist to support claims of emotional distress.

This response was due on October 22. Stating that you can produce responsive documents is not producing responsive documents. Therefore, this response is deficient. Further, during your deposition, you indicated that you were seeking significant emotional distress damages in this case, and so please produce all documents supporting your request for such damages, including medical expenses and medical records.

REQUEST NO. 8: Produce all documents referring to, reflecting, evidencing, or commenting on your physical, mental, or emotional health or condition since April 2022 to present, including, but not limited to, all opinions, reports, communications, and files from present or prior physicians, psychiatrists, psychologists, social workers, therapists, clergy, counselors, or any other professional commenting on your physical, mental, or emotional health, including tests, test results, or evaluation reports for any tests taken, and statements of charges for services rendered.

Your Response: Plaintiff objects that the requests seek confidential medical information not relevant or proportional to the needs of this case and protected by HIPAA. Plaintiff will provide a summary letter from her therapist in lieu of medical records.

You claim in Count XII of your Fourth Amended Complaint that you suffered severe emotional distress (Fourth Amended Complaint ¶142), and you are seeking compensatory damages for emotional damages, mental anguish, and loss of enjoyment of life. Information regarding your medical state from immediately before your employment with Curtiss Wright to the present is highly relevant to your claims that Curtiss Wright caused you mental and/or physical injury resulting in damages. By alleging that your employment caused you severe emotional distress resulting in damages, you placed your recent medical history at issue. This request is narrowly tailored because it only seeks medical history from April 2022, a month before you were hired by Defendant Curtiss Wright to the present. It is highly relevant to your claims and the defenses whether your medical and/or psychotherapy records show a change in medical, physical, or emotional well-being during that time frame.

REQUEST NO. 9: Produce signed copies of the psychotherapy records authorization form and medical records authorization form attached as Attachments A and B.

Your Response: See Response to No. 8.

See Defendants' Response to No. 8.

REQUEST NO. 11: Produce all documents which reflect income, compensation, and/or earnings of any kind received by you from November 2023 through present, including documents showing wages, salary, and benefits; independent contractor income; unemployment compensation benefits; insurance payments; disability benefits; retirement benefits; annuity; pension; or any other payments you received.

Your Response: Plaintiff objects as overly broad and intrusive. Plaintiff has been employed since March 18, 2024, and does not possess additional responsive income or compensation records related to this action. Plaintiff will supplement if any become available.

This is not overly broad or intrusive. You claim economic and compensatory damages because of your termination. As a result, all sources of income or compensation that you received in the period that you claim you were damaged serves to mitigate your damages and bears directly on your claimed damages.

REQUEST NO. 12: Produce each federal and state income tax return (including W-2 forms, 1099 forms, schedules, and attachments) that you filed or intend to file from 2022 through present.

Your Response: Plaintiff objects that this request seeks private financial records not relevant or proportional to the needs of this case. No responsive tax returns will be produced absent a protective order. Plaintiff reserves the right to supplement if ordered by the Court.

Your tax returns are relevant to this case because you are claiming lost wages and other compensatory damages. To the extent that you are claiming that you have lost income or suffered economic damage because of the actions of the Defendants, your financial records are highly relevant to this case.

REQUEST NO. 13: Produce all documents that you provided to or received from, and all communication with, the Office of the Naval Inspector General in relation to any complaint that you filed against Defendant Curtiss-Wright.

Your Response: Plaintiff objects as irrelevant to the claims or defenses in this matter and disproportionate to the needs of the case. No responsive documents are in Plaintiff's possession.

There is no good faith basis for objections on the grounds that documents that you provided to, or received from, and your communications with, the Office of the Navy Inspector General in relation to complaints you filed against Defendant Curtiss Wright are not relevant and disproportionate to the needs of this case. Multiple causes of action in this case, notably your Whistleblower Retaliation claim, are based on the theory that you were retaliated against for providing documents to the Naval Inspector General. These documents and communications will be key pieces of evidence related to claims and defenses in this case. Please withdraw these objections and produce these documents.

REQUEST NO. 18: Produce a copy of your current resume.

Your Response: Plaintiff objects as overly broad and seeking information for purposes of harassment. Plaintiff declines to produce her current resume because her present employment is unrelated to the issues in this litigation. No responsive documents will be produced absent Court order.

There is no good faith basis for you to object to a request for a current resume as “overbroad” or “harassment.” A current resume is a single document it is not overbroad. You filed an employment action in which you claim that a white male was paid more than you even though you were more experienced and more qualified. A copy of your current resume is highly relevant to your experience and qualifications. Please withdraw your objections and produce your current resume.

REQUEST NO. 19: Produce all documents obtained by you from any nonparty through a subpoena, public records request, or other formal or informal request, in connection with this lawsuit.

Your Response: Plaintiff has not obtained any documents from non-parties other than those already produced by Defendant. Plaintiff will supplement if additional documents are later obtained.

This response is deficient. You have sent out many subpoenas in connection with this lawsuit and testified in your deposition that you have received some responses. Those responses must be produced as they are relevant to your claims of Intrusion Upon Seclusion and Illegal Interception of Communications.

REQUEST NO. 21: Produce any videos or social media posts related to your employment with Curtiss-Wright or the claims in this lawsuit.

Your Response: All responsive communications and recordings are already produced and filed at ECF 40.

As noted above, Defendants do not have access to the flash drive that you sent the Court. You are independently obligated to produce this information directly to Defendants.

Interrogatory No. 5: Identify all sources of income you received since your last day of employment with Defendant Curtiss-Wright, whether via employment, short-term or long-term disability benefits, social security benefits, workers' compensation benefits, unemployment benefits, self-employment, independent contractor income, insurance payments, retirement benefits, government subsidies, or some other source, and include the amount received and the dates when you received such income.

Your Response: Plaintiff received unemployment benefits and may have cashed in her retirement account, to be verified. Any other sources of income are irrelevant

This response is insufficient and does not answer the question. First, you were asked to list the amounts and dates of such payments – which you failed to do. Second, your statement that you “may have cashed in her retirement account, to be verified” is not an acceptable answer to an Interrogatory as it does not inform Defendants as to whether that occurred. Third, other sources of income are relevant because you are claiming economic and consequential damages during this period.

Interrogatory No. 7: State whether you have ever been a party or claimant in any type of legal action, including, without limitation, bankruptcy proceedings, foreclosure actions, workers' compensation claims, charges of discrimination, lawsuits, or other legal administrative

Your Response: Plaintiff objects as overbroad and irrelevant. Plaintiff filed a legal malpractice lawsuit against former attorney Bonnie Hunt, Case No. 2025-CP-10-03145.

This interrogatory is not overbroad or irrelevant. This interrogatory seeks a finite list of litigation that you have been a party to. Furthermore, this Interrogatory seeks information relevant to this case to the extent the claims asserted by you in other lawsuits are similar to those asserted here.

Interrogatory No. 8: State whether you have ever been arrested for, charged with, convicted of, or pled guilty or no contest ("conviction") to any crime, and if so, indicate: a) the crime for which you were arrested, charged, or convicted; b) the facts resulting in you being charged with the crime for which you were arrested or convicted; c) the dates of all conviction(s); d) the jurisdiction(s) in which you were convicted; and e) the sentence(s) imposed against you as the result of such conviction(s).

Your Response: Plaintiff objects as irrelevant and not proportional to the needs of this case under Rule 26(b)(1).

As a Plaintiff in this action and an individual giving testimony in a civil action, your criminal history especially in relation to charges or convictions related to fraud or dishonesty are relevant to this action and proportional to the needs of this case because it appears that many your claims will be supported by your testimony should this case go to trial.

Interrogatory No. 9: Identify all account(s) and/or webpage(s) with any social networking websites (including, but not limited to, X (formerly known as "Twitter"), Facebook, MySpace, LinkedIn, Snapchat, TikTok, Instagram), or any other message board(s), webpage(s), website(s), blog(s), and all usernames that you have had in your name or on you behalf since November 21, 2023, to the present, and for each provide: a) the identifying account or username; b) the date the account was activated; c) whether the account is still active; and d) if the account is not active, the date it was deactivated and why it was deactivated.

Your Response: Plaintiff objects as intrusive and irrelevant. No responsive information will be provided.

You have previously sent Defendants discovery requests seeking information regarding the viewing and monitoring of your social media accounts. There is no good faith basis for you to ask Defendants to expend time and resources to identify all individuals who viewed your social media accounts and then respond to this Interrogatory asking you to identify such social media accounts by stating that the request is intrusive and irrelevant.

Interrogatory No. 15: Identify all legal entities that you own, operate, or participate as a member in, including but not limited to Nelson Funding Group, LLC.

Your Response: Plaintiff objects as irrelevant and intrusive. Nelson Funding Group, LLC, and other entities have no relation to this case.

You have claimed economic and consequential damages in this case, information regarding legal entities that you control and can accrue profits and losses from are relevant to this case.

Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter. We look forward to receiving your cured Responses to Defendants' First Set of Requests for Production and First Set of Interrogatories. Please note that a failure to cure will result in a Motion to Compel these responses.

Very truly yours,
