911 Operator: [00:02:04] What is the address of the report?

Debra Nelson: [00:02:08] [REDACTED]. This might be the case number right here.

911 Operator: [00:02:47] And what's that number?

Debra Nelson: [00:02:49] Hello?

911 Operator: [00:02:50] Yes, ma'am. And what's that number?

Debra Nelson: [00:02:52] One 2025-00-5014.

911 Operator: [00:03:08] All right. And what is the phone number that you're calling from?

Debra Nelson: [00:03:25] (843) 277-4142.

911 Operator: [00:03:31] And what is your name?

Debra Nelson: [00:03:34] Deborah Nelson.

911 Operator: [00:03:49] All right. And just to clarify, as far as the evidence That you need to talk to a doctor about. What is it in reference to as far as the case? Just so I can put it in.

Debra Nelson: [00:04:08] I'm going to have it analyzed. I need to have it analyzed. So I need to be able to say, I don't know if I need to talk to him, but I need access to it so I can have it analyzed.

911 Operator: [00:04:25] Okay. So are you trying to give more evidence or are you just trying to look at existing evidence?

Debra Nelson: [00:04:35] This isn't in reference to a lawsuit. I need to find out. Get the information off of that phone to find out who it belongs to. To find out who's been spying on them. That's what it's in reference to.

911 Operator: [00:04:53] Okay. So. Okay, ma'am. So I'm just going to transfer you to the evidence department of North Charleston. So just stay on the line for me, okay?

Debra Nelson: [00:05:09] All right.

Evidence Dept: [00:05:29] Hello?

Debra Nelson: [00:05:33] Hello? Hello?

Evidence Dept: [00:05:37] Yeah. One second. Hello?

Debra Nelson: [00:05:49] Yes, ma'am. Yeah, I have. Can you hear me?

Evidence Dept: [00:05:57] Yes, I can hear you.

Debra Nelson: [00:05:59] Hello? Okay. I have a cell phone that was found at my property. That should have been turned into evidence. What information do you need from me?

Evidence Dept: [00:06:13] Do you have. Do you have a case number?

Debra Nelson: [00:06:17] Yeah, the case number is 2025-005014.

Evidence Dept: [00:06:29] So 2025-005014.

Debra Nelson: [00:06:35] Yeah.

Evidence Dept: [00:06:44] Yeah. Yeah. Yeah. One moment. Okay.

Debra Nelson: [00:07:09] Okay.

Evidence Dept: [00:08:16] All right, ma'am?

Debra Nelson: [00:08:19] Yes.

Evidence Dept: [00:08:20] Okay. That phone we no longer have, that's on it. It was already destroyed.

Debra Nelson: [00:08:26] What do you mean, it was destroyed?

Evidence Dept: [00:08:29] Because when sound comes in, it was an unknown owner. There's only three. We leave it up to. We only hold it for 90 days. And if it's once every 90 days.

Debra Nelson: [00:08:40] Hey, stop right there! I've been trying to get in touch with that officer for months. So you basically, this is obstruction of justice because I asked to speak to that officer, and I've been calling him for months and have not got a return officer. So you destroyed. You destroyed evidence that in a case that I need. So I want to talk to the Chief of Police. That's some bullshit.

Evidence Dept: [00:09:11] Yes, ma'am. I'll go ahead and transfer you up. You can request the chief.

Debra Nelson: [00:09:18] Not gonna talk to.

Debra Nelson: [00:09:20] Do you destroy rape kits too.

Mr. Williams: [00:10:20] Mr. Williams. No. Charleston, please.

Debra Nelson: [00:10:25] Speak to me. Are you a management or something?

Mr. Williams: [00:10:30] No. No, ma'am. Just let me know what you need, and I can direct you to who you need to see.

Debra Nelson: [00:10:40] Yeah, whatever. So I've been calling for months trying to get in touch with the officer that came on the scene. I have a case number. I was just told from the evidence department, which I turned in. I should have kept the ship myself, but I was trying to be proper. A cell phone that was found on my property outside my bedroom window. She just told me the evidence was destroyed. So please explain to me how you destroy evidence. Do you destroy rape kits too? Because she said after 90 days, you destroy it. So do you destroy rape kits? Cause that makes no sense, because that sounds like obstruction of justice and corruption to me.

Mr. Williams: [00:11:24] Okay, could you give me that case number, please?

Debra Nelson: [00:11:29] 2025. Zero zero. 5014.

Mr. Williams: [00:11:43] Okay, so this is this case already over?

Debra Nelson: [00:11:50] No, it's not. It's an active lawsuit.

Mr. Williams: [00:11:54] It's an active lawsuit. Okay. So would you talk to somebody in Internal Affairs and they'll research it to see what's going on. I mean, because if anything is active, to my knowledge, if anything's active, they don't they don't you know, give the evidence back until after. So I, you know, so I don't know. But let me ask you this. Do you know if this is is there a detective on the case?

Debra Nelson: [00:12:27] No, there's no detective on the case. I mean, first of all, this officer that reported to my. He's never at work. I've been calling, trying to get in touch with him for months to figure out what I needed to do next. Right. So I called again today, and I told the lady what I needed, and she transferred me to the evidence department. And then I talked to evidence, and they tell me they destroyed the goddamn cell phone. Why the fuck would you do that?

Mr. Williams: [00:12:58] Well I could. Well, so you said there was no detectives assigned to the case.

Debra Nelson: [00:13:10] How can I get a detective assigned to the case when I can't even get in touch with the officer that came that came here? What do you call it? The duty officer. What's the terminology for it? The one that.

Mr. Williams: [00:13:25] Was on the.

Debra Nelson: [00:13:26] Scene.

Mr. Williams: [00:13:27] I was on the scene, okay?

Debra Nelson: [00:13:29] I don't I'm not. I'm not a criminal. I don't do. This is new for me. So I tried to contact him to figure out what I needed to do next. But I can never get in touch with him since.

Mr. Williams: [00:13:42] Okay. What's this officer's name?

Debra Nelson: [00:13:43] I have never spoken to them. J W I N N.

Mr. Williams: [00:13:51] And an. And what's his first name?

Debra Nelson: [00:13:54] Yes.

Mr. Williams: [00:13:56] I don't know, Jeff.

Debra Nelson: [00:13:57] And this is Jay.

Mr. Williams: [00:13:59] Okay. You have his badge number?

Debra Nelson: [00:14:01] I know his initials. No.

Mr. Williams: [00:14:05] Okay, so hold one.

Debra Nelson: [00:14:08] Minute.

Mr. Williams: [00:14:10] Okay. Okay. What did you say, ma'am?

Debra Nelson: [00:14:14] Ma'am, I have a video of him. Do you want me to send you that?

Mr. Williams: [00:14:18] Oh, no no no no no no. I'm just trying to. That. Yeah. We'll find out. I'll find out what's going on. Let me see. And when did this incident happen, ma'am?

Debra Nelson: [00:14:36] Hold on. Let me find a video. It's been a while. I've been trying to reach him for a minute. Have you? Hold on. Trying to get that. It happened on. I turned my phone off that it happened on because I recorded it on March 2nd.

Mr. Williams: [00:15:43] Okay, well, what kind of case was this man?

Debra Nelson: [00:15:48] Probably cyber stalking. Cyber intrusion.

Mr. Williams: [00:15:57] Oh, okay.

Debra Nelson: [00:15:58] So I have an active lawsuit. I have an active lawsuit against the major company. It's called Curtiss-Wright. And I have several instances of being hacked. Cyber stalking, cyber intrusion. And then I just so happen to see that cell phone that was sitting outside my bedroom window. I don't know how long it was there, but I found it. And then I called the police, and I had them take the phone into their custody because I was trying to make sure when I do have it investigated or analyzed that, you know, the chain of custody would be clean. And I just found out y'all destroyed the fucking phone. Like, who fucking does that?

Mr. Williams: [00:16:53] Okay, well, let me ask you this. Do you have a lawyer?

Debra Nelson: [00:16:59] I'm my own lawyer.

Mr. Williams: [00:17:01] Oh, okay. No, I just was saying because I've seen the lawyer. I was just saying, if you had one, they got you doing this work, they could be doing the work. But anyway, hold on a minute. I'm gonna call down. I'm gonna call.

Debra Nelson: [00:17:14] I had a I had a lawyer. I believe she got paid off because she was trying to sabotage my case. That's why I don't have a lawyer anymore.

Mr. Williams: [00:17:24] Oh, okay. Okay. So I'm gonna call down to the church.

Debra Nelson: [00:17:28] It's so much corruption in Charleston. It's fucking crazy. It really is.

Mr. Williams: [00:17:31] Right. So what I'm gonna do is I'm gonna call the detectives first to see if there is a detective assigned to this. Then if not, then Debra Nelson: [00:17:41] I mean, there's nothing. I didn't go any further than trying to find The get in touch with the officer, and I never got in touch with the officer, so I doubt if there's a detective assigned to it, but I mean, you could check it, but somebody decided it was a good idea to destroy evidence.

Mr. Williams: [00:18:02] Well, you know what? Well, we can go, so we can. So we can skip that area and go straight to Internal Affairs. Just tell them that you called and the evidence, and they told you that the phone is destroyed. And they'll investigate to see what's going. You know, what's going on. Why? Why did this happen or what? You know.

Debra Nelson: [00:18:32] Is that proper?

Mr. Williams: [00:18:32] Proper.

Debra Nelson: [00:18:33] Protocol? Is that what y'all do?

Mr. Williams: [00:18:35] Well, I'm saying, as far as me, I was trying to narrow it down to find out. I could certainly send the the officer email, But, I mean, you said you've been trying to reach the guy and he never returned your call. Have you ever sent an email to him?

Debra Nelson: [00:18:55] I don't know. I think they might have. I don't know. But like I said, all attempts to try to get in touch with him was it didn't work. Most times he wasn't at work.

Mr. Williams: [00:19:07] Okay. So what? You probably do this case, and I'm gonna give. Just give this case. Well, I'll give it to the lady when I Hold on a minute. Hold one minute, please.

Debra Nelson: [00:19:20] Oh.

Mr. Williams: [00:21:43] Okay, ma'am. Ma'am?

Debra Nelson: [00:21:47] Yeah.

Mr. Williams: [00:21:48] Okay. I'm going to transfer you to them. Give them that case number and just tell them that you was trying to. You was told that your cell phone was destroyed and that you want to know what you know, and then they'll go back and investigate to find out what's going on. Okay. All right. I'll transfer you at this time.

Debra Nelson: [00:22:11] All right.

Speaker8: [00:22:11] Thank you.

Internal Affairs: [00:22:25] Charleston police department.

Debra Nelson: [00:22:29] Is this internal affairs?

Internal Affairs: [00:22:31] Yes, ma'am.

Debra Nelson: [00:22:34] Okay. So I was transferred because I was transferred to evidence because I'm trying to locate a cell phone that I turned over to evidence as part of an active lawsuit that I have. I was just told by evidence that the cell phone was destroyed. And since And the phone was turned over on March 2nd, I've been trying to get in touch with the duty officer. For months. I've never been able to speak to him since March 2nd. And Yeah, this is where we are. So they destroyed evidence in an active case.

Internal Affairs: [00:23:26] Okay. What is your name?

Debra Nelson: [00:23:30] Debra Nelson. Debra Nelson.

Speaker8: [00:23:36] Okay.

Internal Affairs: [00:23:38] And what's a good phone number to call you back on?

Debra Nelson: [00:23:42] (843) 277-4142.

Internal Affairs: [00:23:49] Now when you turn the cell phone in, was it under a case number?

Debra Nelson: [00:23:55] Case number I was given is 2025-00-5014.

Internal Affairs: [00:24:07] Okay. And you already talked to evidence and they advised you it was destroyed.

Debra Nelson: [00:24:13] Yeah I just talked to them, like, what, ten minutes ago?

Internal Affairs: [00:24:25] Who did you turn it into?

Debra Nelson: [00:24:29] I gave it to the officer J win, and he j win, and he said he was going to turn it into evidence.

Internal Affairs: [00:25:13] So it wasn't your phone. It was a found phone. Okay, so I'm understanding.

Debra Nelson: [00:25:20] It background. Okay.

Debra Nelson: [00:25:23] Background to all of this is I have a lawsuit against Curtiss-Wright, which is located in Somerville. I was a former employee of that company after contacting several federal agencies from Department of Justice. White House. The Navy. I started to notice that my electronics were being hacked to my cell phones, to my printer, to my car. I've recorded some of these instances. What else? The car thing happened more than once. It happened again, like, back in.

Debra Nelson: [00:26:11] Either May or June. It happened again. So the car thing happened twice. The cell phone thing is recurring. I'll turn my phone off and it'll turn back on by itself. So I've been being surveilled. I've actually witnessed a physical person spying on me. When I was away in for training in Arizona. I saw a woman spying on me. So this is what this is in relation to. So the cell phone was found on my property outside of my bedroom window.

Internal Affairs: [00:26:56] Let me see if I can get in contact with officers in. Were you ever speaking with detectives or anything like that?

Debra Nelson: [00:27:07] No. I never even got to got in touch with him. So I didn't know what steps I needed to take, but I never talked to him. Okay.

Internal Affairs: [00:27:18] All right. Let me. I have your information. Somebody will reach back out to you. Okay. And we'll figure out what exactly happened.

Debra Nelson: [00:27:31] Okay.

Internal Affairs: [00:27:32] All righty. All right. Thank you.

Debra Nelson: [00:27:35] All right. Thanks. Bye.
