C.A. No. 2:25-cv-00405-RMG-MGB

DEFENDANTS' RESPONSE IN OPPOSITION TO PLAINTIFF'S MOTION TO COMPEL DISCOVERY FOR PROTECTIVE ORDER AND FOR SANCTIONS

Pursuant to Rules 26, 34, and 37 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Local Civil Rule 37.01, Defendants Curtiss Wright Electro-Mechanical Corporation, Stephanie Lanier, and Shanie Sablitsky (collectively "Defendants"), by and through their undersigned counsel, submit this Response in Opposition to Plaintiff's Motion to Compel Discovery, for Protective Order, and for Sanctions. (ECF No. 210.)

In this Motion, Plaintiff seeks to compel Defendants to produce (1) responses to her requests for production dated November 1, 2025, seeking records related to Curtiss Wright's receipt of federal financial assistance; (2) communications between Curtiss Wright, Amentum (her most recent employer), and Jackson Lewis attorneys; and (3) unredacted Disciplinary Action Reports that she requested on October 15, 2025. She also seeks to compel the production of Jeff Womack for his deposition. Plaintiff also seeks a protective order, preventing the discovery of her resume, medical records, and tax returns and offering instead to produce a "summary letter from her therapist" summarizing her claim for emotional distress damages. She also seeks a protective order, effectively quashing the subpoenas served on her therapist and her former employer. For the reasons set forth below, Plaintiff's Motion should be denied in its entirety.

A. Relevant Background

a. Document Discovery Disputes

Defendants served Plaintiff with Defendants' First Requests for Production on September 22, 2025, a copy of which is attached as Exhibit A. Among other requests, Defendants specifically requested: (1) documents relating to or supporting Plaintiff's allegations that Defendants' actions resulted in her suffering mental and emotional distress, including documentation from physicians, psychologists, and social workers from April 2022, the month before her employment with Curtiss Wright, to the present, and; (2) all documents which reflect income, compensation, or earnings of any kind received by Plaintiff from November 2023, the month of her termination, through the present, including tax returns and other relevant documents to support her claims of compensatory damages and lost wages.¹ Responses to Defendants' First Requests for Production were due on October 22, 2025. When Plaintiff failed to respond by October 22, Defendants' Counsel emailed Plaintiff to ask her when she would produce her responses. Plaintiff initially stated she would produce documents on October 24, but she then sent a follow-up email thirty minutes later saying that she was traveling to serve subpoenas so that she would complete production upon her return. (Ex. A – October 23 Correspondence from Debra Nelson regarding Discovery Responses.) Less than an hour after that second email on October 23, Plaintiff sent Defendants' Counsel her Responses to Defendants' First Set of Requests for Production. (Ex. B – Plaintiff's Responses to Defendants' First Set of Requests for Production.)

¹ These are not the verbatim requests but are summaries of multiple requests made to Plaintiff in Defendants' First Requests for Production.

Plaintiff's written responses contained blanket objections, even objecting to each on the basis of attorney-client privilege, even though Plaintiff is unrepresented and no request seeks protected communications. Plaintiff withheld other key pieces of relevant information from Defendants, including her resume, and a copy of her complaint to the Navy Inspector General.²

Similarly, Plaintiff claims economic damages and emotional distress damages but when Defendants asked Plaintiff to provide documentation to support her claims for damages, Plaintiff refused asserting various privileges and objections or offering to release certain cherry-picked summaries in lieu of actual documents. Additionally, Plaintiff refuses to even produce a current resume showing her qualifications, objecting on the basis that the request for a single identifiable employment document is somehow "overbroad." (Ex. B, Response to Request No. 18) Defendants filed a Motion to Compel more complete responses to their Discovery Requests on November 5. (ECF No. 207.)

Due to her evasive and non-responsive discovery responses, Defendants were not able to confirm the identities of Plaintiff's current employer or her psychotherapist until Plaintiff's deposition on October 28. Because Plaintiff refused to produce compensation records, employment records, or psychotherapy records, Defendants prepared subpoenas to Plaintiff's employer and psychotherapist on November 3. On November 3, Defense Counsel gave Plaintiff notice of the intent to serve the subpoenas to which Plaintiff responded multiple times including "Great!!!", and "Great. It will all work in my favor", and "Thank you for the notice. Please send me complete copies of all subpoenas, including any attached exhibits or schedules, so I may review them for scope and privilege.” (Ex. C, November 3 Correspondence with Debra Nelson regarding Subpoenas). Both subpoenas were served on the afternoon of November 3. Plaintiff filed the instant Motion on November 5, contesting these subpoenas stating, among other things, that she was not given notice of those subpoenas.

b. Requests for the Deposition of Jeff Womack

On September 1, 2025, Plaintiff identified Jeff Womack as one of nine individuals that she wanted to depose. On October 8, Defense counsel notified Plaintiff that Mr. Womack was out on medical leave until November 2, and so he could not be produced for deposition on October 21. (Ex. D, Email Chain regarding Jeff Womack). Plaintiff responded by stating that she would reach out to Mr. Womack, a Curtiss-Wright employee, directly. Defense Counsel asked that Plaintiff not contact him because he is on protected medical leave and cannot work but that Defense Counsel would be happy to schedule his deposition upon his return to work. Id. Plaintiff responded requesting a doctor’s note or threatened to proceed with the deposition (Id.)

On October 10, 2025, Plaintiff informed Defense Counsel that she received information that Mr. Womack returned to work and is working part days. (Id.)³ This “information” was incorrect. Plaintiff said in light of that new “information” she would proceed with Mr. Womack’s deposition. Defense Counsel inquired with Curtiss-Wright and confirmed that Mr. Womack was still on protected medical leave.

³ Plaintiff stated in her written discovery responses that she has produced all communications with third parties about this lawsuit. This is just one of multiple instances where Plaintiff claims to “have received information” about individuals and events in this lawsuit. If Plaintiff actually received this information, she failed to produce it in discovery.

On October 13, Mr. Womack contacted Curtiss Wright to complain that Plaintiff was contacting him while he was on leave. Defense Counsel had previously asked Plaintiff not to contact Mr. Womack while he was on leave. Later that day, Plaintiff emailed Defense Counsel and said that based on recent information, Jeff Womack is back at work and available. Again, that “information” was incorrect (Ex. E- October 13 separate email from Debra Nelson regarding Jeff Womack).

On October 17, the Court denied Plaintiff’s first Motion to Compel Jeff Womack’s attendance at deposition. (ECF No. 190.)

On October 19, Plaintiff sent Defense Counsel another email, again stating that she recently received information that “Mr. Womack has, in fact, returned to work at Curtiss-Wright and is available to be deposed.” (Ex. F - October 20 Correspondence from Debra Nelson.) Plaintiff asked Defense Counsel to confirm that Mr. Womack would attend or she would file a Motion to Compel. Defense Counsel reiterated to Plaintiff that Mr. Womack was out on medical leave and that Mr. Womack would be produced “for deposition once he returns provided that – at that point – his deposition does not exceed the 10 depositions allowed to you by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.” Id. Plaintiff responded “Noted.” Id.

c. Untimely Discovery Requests

Plaintiff has sent Defendants several emails with additional document requests over the last few weeks, including emails on November 5. Defendants have advised Plaintiff that they do not intend to respond to these discovery requests because they were served less than 30 days prior to the close of discovery, and so they are untimely.

A. Plaintiff’s Motion to Compel Should Be Denied.

1. Plaintiff’s Discovery Requests Are Untimely And Largely Seek Irrelevant Information

Discovery closed in this case on November 5. (Scheduling Order, ECF No. 53.) In her Motion, Plaintiff seeks to compel Defendants to respond to discovery requests that she served on November 3 (document requests concerning receipt of Navy funding provided to Curtiss Wright), and unredacted Disciplinary Action Reports for Michelle Broman-Bolton and Brian Fogarty⁴ and badge access records that she requested on October 17. Defendants objected to all these requests as untimely, as they were served less than 30 days prior to the close of discovery. For this reason alone, Plaintiff's Motion should be denied.

For the first time in her Motion, Plaintiff also seeks to compel communications between Curtiss Wright, her most recent employer Amentum, and Jackson Lewis. After leaving Curtiss Wright, Plaintiff found similar employment with Amentum, working for them in Jacksonville, Florida. Recently, Plaintiff filed a lawsuit in the Northern District of Florida against Amentum, arising from her employment, bearing Case No. 3:25-cv-01447-MCR-ZCB. Plaintiff asserts claims in that lawsuit that are strikingly similar to her claims in this case, including claims for gender discrimination, retaliation, defamation, intentional infliction of emotional distress, civil conspiracy, breach of contract, and whistleblower retaliation. Nelson v. Amentum, ECF No. 18. Coincidentally, Amentum is a client of Jackson Lewis and attorneys from another Jackson Lewis office are representing Amentum in that lawsuit. Because her claims against Amentum are almost identical to the claims against Curtiss Wright and the factual basis for her claims is similar to the basis for her claims in this lawsuit and evidence of what she earned during her employment with Amentum is directly related to her damages claim in this case, the undersigned counsel questioned

⁴ Defendants have produced the unredacted DAR reports for Fogarty and Bolton-Broman at DEF000379 and DEFS000380. Defendants advised Plaintiff that these records had been produced to her via email on October 31, 2025. (ECF No. 210-2.)

Plaintiff about her employment with Amentum and her new lawsuit during her deposition in this case. These actions are neither retaliatory nor inappropriate.⁵

Plaintiff's request for a limited extension of the deadline to conduct discovery into communications between Jackson Lewis attorneys and their clients Curtiss Wright and Amentum regarding Plaintiff's lawsuits should be denied. Plaintiff filed a lawsuit against her most recent employer, Amentum, on August 26, 2025, months after this case was filed and years after the events alleged in the Complaint. As such, any discovery requests related to recent communications are not relevant to her claims in this case. Further, any such communications between Jackson Lewis and its clients would be protected by the attorney-client privilege.

Defendants have responded to extensive written discovery from Plaintiff, including 3 interrogatories, 26 requests for admission, 31 requests for production (with 1412 pages of documents produced), and have provided 8 current Curtiss Wright employees for deposition. Still, Plaintiff has continued to pepper Defendants with duplicative or irrelevant discovery requests. For example, the allegedly distorted final written warning that Plaintiff complains of in this Motion has been produced to her multiple times as DEFS000329 and DEFS000397. In stark contrast, Plaintiff has provided substantive responses to only 6 of the 15 interrogatories served by Defendants and produced documents in response to 1 of the 31 requests for production, having produced only approximately 100 pages of documents, roughly 80 of which are exhibits to a single letter. (Exs. B and G.)

⁵ Plaintiff testified that as of the time of her deposition she had been out of work on a leave of absence from Amentum for several months because of stress and anxiety. (Nelson Dep.77:21-78:7.) She indicated during her deposition that she was not sure if she would return to work at Amentum. (Id. at 90:5-6.) Evidently, Plaintiff has since been fired from Amentum for being a "no call/no show" for three consecutive work shifts. (ECF No. 210-11.)

2. Plaintiff's Request to Depose Jeff Womack Should Be Denied Because She Has Taken Ten Depositions Allotted Under the Federal Rules and Womack Remains Out of Work on Medical Leave.

Plaintiff wants to depose her co-worker, Jeff Womack. Defendants have consistently advised Plaintiff that Jeff Womack is out on medical leave and that they would make him available for deposition upon his return, provided that Plaintiff has not exceeded the ten depositions allowed under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Womack was originally scheduled to return to work on November 2, but he failed to return. Defense counsel advised Plaintiff on November 4 that he had not returned to work and remained out on medical leave with his return to work date uncertain. (Ex. G.) Defense counsel explained to Plaintiff that, per her deposition notice, Defendants would substitute David McKeough and make him available for deposition instead of Mr. Womack. Plaintiff agreed. (Ex. H – November 4 Correspondence with Debra Nelson). Defendants proposed that the deposition occur virtually to save the parties time and expenses, but Plaintiff insisted on moving forward with an in-person deposition. (Id.) As such, Plaintiff chose to depose Mr. McKeough in lieu of Mr. Womack, and she has now taken ten depositions allotted under the Federal Rules.

Defendants have previously advised Plaintiff on multiple occasions that they would make Mr. Womack available for deposition upon his return from leave provided that she has not already taken ten depositions allotted under the Federal Rules. For example, on October 14, counsel advised Ms. Nelson “If [Womack] is not available to be deposed prior to the discovery deadline, then we would be agreeable to a limited extension of discovery solely for the purpose of Mr. Womack’s deposition, provided that you have not already taken the ten depositions allowed under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.” (Ex. D, October 14 Correspondence with Debra Nelson.) On October 22, 2025, counsel reiterated this limitation and advised Plaintiff to identify who she wanted to depose for her two remaining depositions: “I do want to point out, again, though that you’ve now taken eight depositions, and so you are only allotted two more under the federal rules. (See Fed. R. Civ. P. 30(a)(2).) Curtiss Wright objects to you taking more than 10 depositions in this case. In addition to Brian Fogarty and Antonio Coleman, you’ve also indicated a desire to depose Jeff Womack and David McKeown. Please let us know which two you’d prefer to depose and we’ll work with you to get those scheduled.” (Ex. I – October 22 Correspondence with Debra Nelson.) On November 5, 2025, prior to the deposition of Plaintiff’s tenth witness, Antonio Coleman, Defendants’ counsel noted on the record that this was Plaintiff’s tenth deposition and that Defendants objected to any additional depositions. Knowing this, Plaintiff still opted to take her ninth and tenth depositions on November 5, and so Plaintiff has now met the limit under the Federal Rules.

Defendants do not currently know Mr. Womack’s return to work status, but object to producing him for deposition because his deposition would exceed the ten-deposition limit provided under the Federal Rules. This is an employment lawsuit. It is not a complex case warranting more depositions than the ten allotted under the Federal Rules. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 30(a)(2). In addition, Plaintiff has already produced her text messages with Mr. Womack, and fails to articulate why deposing Mr. Womack is necessary or what additional evidence she expects to gain from his testimony. See Seaman v. Duke University, 2018 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 62287, at *6-7 (M.D.N.C. Apr. 11, 2018) (noting that court will permit additional depositions only upon a showing of exceptional good cause and denying request for leave to take additional depositions). Further, Defendants have consistently told Plaintiff that she is only allowed ten depositions without leave of court, and so she knowingly chose to move forward with other depositions instead of Mr.

Womack's deposition. As such, her request for a limited extension of the discovery deadline to depose Mr. Womack should be denied.

B. Plaintiff's Motion for Protective Order Should Be Denied

Plaintiff seeks a protective order from the Court, seeking protection from disclosure of her therapy records and her tax returns. With respect to her therapy records, Plaintiff concedes that she is seeking emotional distress damages but contends that "a summary letter from her therapist" instead of her full therapy file should be sufficient. It would not be. Because she is claiming emotional distress damages and is planning to use her therapist's statement as evidence to support her claims for damages, all her therapy records are relevant and discoverable. Coffin v. Bridges, 1995 U.S. App. LEXIS 34729, *3 (4th Cir., Dec. 11, 1995) (affirming dismissal of complaint for injuries and mental anguish because plaintiff refused to provide mental health care records); Crotty v. Windjammer Vill. of Little River, 2017 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 36128 (D.S.C. Mar. 14, 2017) (ordering a pro se plaintiff to sign a release to provide her medical information because the pro se plaintiff has placed her health at issue by alleging that defendant's actions caused her health problems and [she is] seeking damages for those health problems'). Plaintiff testified in her deposition that she has been seeing her therapist since before her employment at Curtiss Wright. (Ex. J - Nelson Dep. 81:4-23.) She cannot "cherry pick" what therapy records she produces. Accordingly, Defendants have moved to compel production of Plaintiff's therapy records and other records supporting her claim for emotional distress damages (ECF No. 207 at 6-7), and seek an order from the Court compelling Plaintiff to produce her therapy records.

With respect to her tax returns and resume, Plaintiff contends that these documents are irrelevant. (ECF No. 210 at 3.) Defendants disagree. Plaintiff's tax returns and related W-2 and 1099 Forms will reflect the income that she has earned since her employment with Curtiss Wright ended, which directly impacts her claim for lost wages. Courts routinely compel production of tax returns as relevant to damages in an employment lawsuit. Defendants have moved to compel production of Plaintiff's tax returns. (ECF No. 207 at 5.) Plaintiff makes passing reference to a protective order against producing her resume. She says that it "adds nothing" to this case, but she has made her qualifications and experience an issue by arguing that she was more qualified than a co-worker, Patrick Ingram, who allegedly received more pay and more training opportunities than she did. As such, her resume, which reflects her past work experience, is relevant and discoverable. Iannucci v. Rite Aid Corp., No. 1:11-CV-281, 2012 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 102448, 2012 WL 3019953, at *4 (W.D.N.C. July 24, 2012) (finding that a plaintiff's resume, including subsequent and prior employment history is relevant in an employment discrimination case), aff'd, 512 Fed. Appx. 365 (4th Cir. 2013); Cole v. Saks, Inc., No. 5:06-CV-229-F, 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 76072, 2007 WL 2997453, at *7 (E.D.N.C. Oct. 12, 2007) ("Plaintiff's current employment, his current earnings, and his job search efforts are all directly relevant to the issue of damages in an employment discrimination action. Moreover, the court is not aware of any constitutional 'privilege' that enables Plaintiff to refuse to divulge information regarding his current employment.").

Lastly, Plaintiff seeks a protective order to effectively squash the third-party subpoenas served on her therapist and her current employer, Amentum. As an initial matter, Plaintiff's claim that Defendants failed to provide advance notice before service of these subpoenas is false. The undersigned counsel informed Plaintiff of his intent to serve the subpoenas via email at 7:33 a.m. on November 3, 2025, and provided her with advance copies of the subpoenas. After which Plaintiff responded with a series of four emails:

- 11/3 at 11:12: Great. It will all work in my favor.
- 11/3 at 11:14: When did you submit these subpoenas? To which counsel responded, "We are serving them today."

- 11/3 at 11:21: Plaintiff responded, “Great!!!”
- 11/3 at 11:51: Thank you for the notice. Please send me complete copies of all subpoenas, including any attached exhibits or schedules, so I may review them for scope and privilege.

(Email correspondence attached as Exhibit C.) As these emails make clear, Plaintiff’s claim that she was not provided notice before service is false.

Plaintiff argues that a protective order should issue against these third-party subpoenas because the deadline to respond to the subpoenas falls outside of the discovery deadline. Plaintiff makes a fair point, and, in retrospect, Defendants should have moved for a limited extension of the discovery deadline to receive these subpoena responses and have now done so. But, Plaintiff overlooks the fact that the only reason that Defendants needed to send third party subpoenas for her employment records and therapy records is that she failed to produce these records originally in response to Defendants’ discovery requests and that failure is the subject of Defendants’ pending Motion to Compel. (ECF No. 207.) Plaintiff failed to identify Amentum as her current employer until her deposition, and she objected to producing evidence of her subsequent income in response to Defendants’ written discovery. (Ex B.) Had she provided the records requested in response to Defendants’ Requests for Production Nos. 7, 8, 9 and 11, the subpoenas would have been unnecessary. Further, Defendants served the subpoenas prior to the discovery deadline in the hope that responses might be received before the close of discovery. Unfortunately, no responses have been received to date.

To the extent that Plaintiff continues to refuse to produce evidence of income earned from Amentum and her therapy records, despite her claim for lost wages and emotional distress damages, Defendants respectfully request that the Court issue a limited extension of the discovery deadline to allow for receipt of these records from third parties until December 5, which is the current deadline for responses to the third party subpoenas issued by Plaintiff.

C. Plaintiff's Motion for Sanctions Should Be Denied.

Plaintiff seeks sanctions against Defendants in the form of expenses for rescheduling Jeff Womack's deposition and expenses for bringing the Motion to Compel as it relates to unspecified deficiencies in Defendant's September 12, 2025 discovery responses. As to Jeff Womack's deposition, Plaintiff unilaterally noticed that deposition on November 2, 2025, for the deposition to occur three days later on November 5, 2025. In her notice, she stated, "in the event Jeff Womack remains unavailable for deposition on November 5, 2025, Plaintiff will proceed with the deposition of Dave McKeown at the same date, time and location . . ." (ECF No. 210-8.) As of November 5, 2025, Jeff Womack remained out on medical leave, and so Curtiss Wright produced Dave McKeown for deposition. Plaintiff also deposed Antonio Coleman on the same date, and so she incurred no unnecessary or additional expenses related to Jeff Womack's inability to appear for deposition. Accordingly, there is no basis for her request for sanctions related to Jeff Womack's deposition.

Plaintiff also seeks sanctions in the form of expenses related to her motion to compel complete responses to Defendants' discovery requests served on September 12, 2025. Plaintiff fails to explain how those responses were incomplete. The responses were detailed and complete and included the production of 132 pages of responsive documents. Defendants have since produced 1278 additional pages of documents to Plaintiff. In any event, Plaintiff's Motion to Compel regarding her First Set of Discovery and the responses that Defendants served on her on September 12 have already been dealt with extensively by the Court.⁶ Not only did Plaintiff prematurely file a Motion to Compel regarding those responses (ECF No. 100), Plaintiff filed a Renewed Motion to Compel (ECF No. 140) before the Court had an opportunity to rule on the then-pending Motion to Compel. The Court denied Plaintiff's Motion to Compel regarding those responses on October 20. (See ECF No. 192.)

As for the supposedly distorted document that was produced as DEFS000282-DEFS000283, it is not Plaintiff's Final Written Warning, it is Plaintiff's July 14 Disciplinary Action Report ("DAR"). Plaintiff fails to explain that copies of that July 14 DAR were produced as DEFS000329 and DEFS000397. However, converting the document from spreadsheet form to pdf made that specific copy appear distorted. In sum, Plaintiff has access to all the information that she requested in Defendants' timely served discovery responses. Plaintiff either has not thoroughly reviewed the discovery that has been produced or advances this Motion knowing that she possesses the documents she claims that Defendants are withholding. As such, there is no basis for Plaintiff's request for fees, and so her request for sanctions should be denied.

Respectfully submitted this 13th day of November, 2025.

Dear Counsels

Thank you for your email.

As previously noted, the social media videos were provided on a flash drive submitted to the Court. That submission satisfied my discovery obligations regarding those materials. It is not my responsibility to provide the Defendants with direct access to my personal social media accounts. If you are unable to retrieve a copy of the flash drive from the Clerk's Office, you may coordinate with the Court to obtain access.

I am currently traveling to complete service of two outstanding subpoenas that are directly related to pending discovery issues. I previously said by tomorrow but I anticipate providing my remaining responses promptly upon my return and appreciate your patience as I finalize them.

I also note that several of Defendants' discovery responses remain incomplete, and I am still waiting for sufficient production to certain of my requests. Once those are resolved, I will be in a better position to supplement as needed.

I remain committed to good-faith compliance and will keep you updated on timing.

Sincerely,
Debra Nelson

Good afternoon, Ms. Nelson,

Your responses to Defendants' First Interrogatories and First Requests for Productions were due yesterday, October 22nd. Please advise when we will receive these discovery responses.

As for your earlier email that you sent a flash drive to court with certain social media videos, we do not have access to that flash drive. As a result, this information would still be considered outstanding and would need to be provided in response to Defendants' discovery requests.

As a reminder, your responses to Defendants' Second Requests for Production are due November 3rd.

PLAINTIFF'S ANSWERS TO DEFENDANT'S FIRST SET OF REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS

Pursuant to Rule 34 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Plaintiff Debra Nelson submits the following responses and objections to Defendant Curtiss-Wright Corporation's First Set of Requests for Production of Documents. These responses are based on information presently available and are subject to supplementation or amendment as discovery continues.

GENERAL OBJECTIONS

1. Plaintiff objects to each request to the extent that it seeks documents protected by the attorney-client privilege, work-product doctrine, or any other applicable privilege.
2. Plaintiff objects to each request to the extent that it is overly broad, unduly burdensome, irrelevant, or seeks information not proportional to the needs of this case under Rule 26(b)(1).
3. Plaintiff objects to each request that seeks disclosure of confidential personal, financial, or medical information that is not relevant or necessary to any claim or defense.
4. Plaintiff reserves the right to supplement, amend, or modify these responses as additional information becomes available.

SPECIFIC RESPONSES

Request No. 1

All responsive communications and recordings are already produced and filed at ECF 177 and ECF 40.

Request No. 2

Case No. 2:25-CV-00405-RMG-MGB

Plaintiff identifies a witness statement from Joe Couillard, dated May 19, 2023, relating to her employment with Curtiss-Wright. This document is already in Defendant's possession, having been previously produced in earlier discovery and filings. Plaintiff therefore has no additional responsive documents to produce at this time but reserves the right to supplement if further witness statements are obtained during discovery.

Request No. 3

All responsive communications and recordings are already produced and filed at ECF 40.

Request No. 4

Plaintiff has conducted a reasonable search and has not located any additional employment-related materials other than those already in Defendant's possession, including emails, disciplinary records, or job-duty documentation. Plaintiff will supplement this response if additional responsive materials are located.

Request No. 5

Already in Defense's possession.

Request No. 6

Attorney fees $2,250; consultation fees totaling $650; lost wages from 11/15/2023 to 3/15/2024 $22,781.44. These amounts are estimates based on records available and will be supplemented as discovery continues.

Request No. 7

Plaintiff can request a letter from her therapist to support claims of emotional distress.

Request Nos. 8 & 9

Plaintiff objects that the requests seek confidential medical information not relevant or proportional to the needs of this case and protected by HIPAA. Plaintiff will provide a summary letter from her therapist in lieu of medical records.

Request No. 10

Plaintiff objects as overly broad and intrusive. Plaintiff has been continuously employed since March 18, 2024, and has not submitted further job applications. No responsive documents are in Plaintiff's possession. Plaintiff will supplement if any are later located.

Request No. 11

Plaintiff objects as overly broad and intrusive. Plaintiff has been employed since March 18, 2024, and does not possess additional responsive income or compensation records related to this action. Plaintiff will supplement if any become available.

Case No. 2:25-CV-00405-RMG-MGB

Request No. 12

Plaintiff objects that this request seeks private financial records not relevant or proportional to the needs of this case. No responsive tax returns will be produced absent a protective order. Plaintiff reserves the right to supplement if ordered by the Court.

Request No. 13

Plaintiff objects as irrelevant to the claims or defenses in this matter and disproportionate to the needs of the case. No responsive documents are in Plaintiff's possession.

Request No. 14

Already in Defense's possession.

Request No. 15

No expert at this time.

Request No. 16

No correspondence between Plaintiff and Brian Fogarty, Michelle Broman-Bolton, TJ Hines, Patrick Ingram, and Matthew Claxton. Text messages ECF 177 (Jeff Womack). Emails between Plaintiff, Cody Diehl, Jerod Froetschner, Stephanie Lanier, Shane Sablotsky, Paul Ferdenzi, April James, and Lynn Bamford are already in Defense's possession.

Request No. 17

Plaintiff has conducted a reasonable search and has not located any documents showing that she applied for an NDT Lead Inspector position. Plaintiff was never notified that such a position existed. Plaintiff will supplement if any such documents are later discovered.

Request No. 18

Plaintiff objects as overly broad and seeking information for purposes of harassment. Plaintiff declines to produce her current resume because her present employment is unrelated to the issues in this litigation. No responsive documents will be produced absent Court order.

Request No. 19

Plaintiff has not obtained any documents from non-parties other than those already produced by Defendant. Plaintiff will supplement if additional documents are later obtained.

Request No. 20

Defense has these documents in their possession from NLRB Case 10-CA-337272. Plaintiff can produce letters to the White House and Inspector General complaints. EEOC and SCHAF complaints are already in Defense's possession.

Case No. 2:25-CV-00405-RMG-MGB

Request No. 21

All responsive communications and recordings are already produced and filed at ECF 40.

Request No. 22

Plaintiff can produce letters to the White House and Inspector General complaints. Letter to CEO Lynn Bamford is already in Defense's possession.

Request No. 23

Plaintiff cannot confirm or deny the identity of the actors responsible for any alleged intrusion. No additional responsive documents are currently in Plaintiff's possession. Investigation and discovery are ongoing, and Plaintiff will supplement as appropriate.

Request No. 24

Plaintiff objects that this request is overly broad and seeks documents already in Defendant's possession. After a reasonable search, Plaintiff has no additional responsive documents. Plaintiff will supplement if further documents are located.

Request No. 25

Emails with Shane Sablotsky, Stephanie Lanier, and James Lawrence are already in Defense's possession.

Request No. 26

Plaintiff has conducted a reasonable search and has not located additional documentation regarding adjusted work hours. Management did not produce evidence requested during employment. Plaintiff will supplement if discovered in Defendant's production.

Request No. 27

Text messages from Jeff Womack dated November 15, 2023.

Request No. 28

Email dated July 17, 2023, already in Defense's possession.

Request No. 29

Letters to the White House, complaints to the Inspector Generals, and complaints to OFCCP and the Department of Labor.

Request No. 30

Case No. 2:25-CV-00405-RMG-MGB

Defendants intercepted Plaintiff's email from Paul Ferdenzi. Plaintiff witnessed it while sitting at her computer and speaking with Jeff Womack. Plaintiff cannot confirm or deny other intrusions because discovery is not complete.

Request No. 31

Write-up given by Stephanie Lanier on September 20, 2023, regarding an email Plaintiff replied to on September 15, 2023.

Request No. 32

Complaint against Brian Fogarty (May 19, 2023), bullying by Michelle Broman-Bolton, and complaints of printer access restriction. No additional responsive documents are currently located; Plaintiff will supplement if additional materials are found.

This email is in response to your email below and the email containing additional written discovery requests that you sent to us this morning. As I stated in my previous email, per the Court's July 8th Scheduling Order, all discovery requests that would have a due date after the November 5, 2025 discovery deadline are untimely. Under Rule 34, the time period to respond is 30 days from the date you serve us with the request. The discovery requests that you served on October 15 and today, October 31, would have due dates after the discovery deadline. Because these requests are untimely, we will not be responding to them.

Additionally, the unredacted DAR reports for Michelle Broman-Boltan and Brian Fogarty were already produced to you in Defendants' Responses to Plaintiff's Third Requests for Production.

Ms. Nelson,

Per the Court's July 8th Scheduling Order, "discovery shall be completed no later than November 5, 2025. All discovery requests shall be served in time for the responses thereto to be served by this date." See ECF No. 53. As you recognized, and explicitly stated, in your September 3rd email to us, the Scheduling Order requires that all discovery be completed by this date, and we have a joint obligation to adhere to that deadline.

The additional discovery requests that you sent to us last night, October 15th, under Rule 34, are untimely. We have 30 days to respond to those requests under Rule 34 which would set a due date of November 15 – 10 days after discovery in this case is closed. Because these requests are untimely, we will not be responding to them.

Nevertheless, here are our specific objections to your discovery requests:

1. Unredacted DAR Reports for Michelle Broman-Bolton and Brian Fogarty, previously produced with redactions. These records are relevant to comparator discipline, workplace safety, and retaliation analysis. Please produce the complete versions or identify any specific privilege claimed under Rule 26(b)(5).

We are not aware of what redactions you are referring to. But, unreacted versions of these reports are included in today's document production to you.

2. Badge-Entry and Exit Logs (Facility Access Reports) for the period October 6–17, 2025 for the following Curtiss-Wright employees:

Jeff Womack

Stephanie Lanier

Shane Sablotsky

Michelle Broman-Bolton

Patrick Ingram

Joe Cabaup

David McKeown

Matthew Claxton

These records are needed to verify presence at the facility and to clarify defense representations that Mr. Womack remains on protected medical leave, despite his own statement to me that he has returned to work part-time.

Not only is this request untimely, it is inappropriate. As we have previously advised you on multiple occasions, Mr. Womack is out of work on protected medical leave and we will produce him for deposition once he returns, even if it is after the discovery period ends. We had asked you not to disturb Mr. Womack's protected medical leave, but you contacted him anyway and told him that he was required to sit for a deposition. He contacted Curtiss Wright to complain that you were contacting him while he was on leave. There is no obligation for us to prove to your satisfaction that Mr. Womack is on leave by producing his Badge entry and exit logs, and we will not do so. Further, the badge-entry and exit logs of the other individuals for the past 10 days that you've listed are not relevant to Mr. Womack's leave or any issue in this case and seem to serve no purpose other than to burden Curtiss Wright or gain personal information on individuals who you intend to depose next Tuesday. As such, we will not produce these records.

Finally, yesterday you sent us an email stating something to the effect of “I’d like to add David McKeown to the list”, to the extent that this means that you would like to depose him on Tuesday, October 21, that is not proper notice to do so. This is the first time there has been any mention of this individual in this case and there are only 3 business days between your request and the proposed deposition date. That is not enough time to assess his availability and adequately and fairly prepare a witness for deposition. As such he will not be produced for deposition on Tuesday, October 21. Furthermore, if you intend to depose Jeff Womack and at least three former employees, David McKeown would be your eleventh (11th) deposition which exceeds the number allowed to you under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

Subject: Supplemental Discovery Request – DAR and Badge Access Records (Before Oct. 21 Deposition)

Dear Mr. Samples and Mr. Valenza,

Following our prior correspondence regarding deposition scheduling, please see the below supplemental discovery request tied to the upcoming October 21, 2025 deposition.

Pursuant to Rules 26 and 34 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, I am requesting the following materials:

1. Unredacted DAR Reports for Michelle Broman-Bolton and Brian Fogarty, previously produced with redactions. These records are relevant to comparator discipline, workplace safety, and retaliation analysis. Please produce the complete versions or identify any specific privilege claimed under Rule 26(b)(5).

Jeff Womack

Joe Cabaup

David McKeown

Matthew Claxton

These records are needed to verify presence at the facility and to clarify defense representations that Mr. Womack remains on protected medical leave, despite his own statement to me that he has returned to work part-time.

This request is made in advance of the October 21 deposition so that these materials can be reviewed beforehand and used efficiently during questioning.

Please provide these materials within five (5) business days or advise whether you intend to object.

If Defendants are unwilling to produce the requested reports before October 21, please confirm this in writing so that I may notify the Court in advance of the deposition.

Thank you for your attention to this request.

Ms. Nelson:

You are correct that we have not contacted Mr. Womack because he is out on medical leave. Curtiss Wright risks legal claims from Mr. Womack if it contacts him and asks him to work while he is out on protected medical leave. At this time, Curtiss Wright is expecting an update from Mr. Womack on November 2, regarding his return to work status. We do not anticipate that he will return before that date. If you have information from Mr. Womack (or anyone else) suggesting otherwise, please let us know. If he is not available to be deposed prior to the discovery deadline, then we would be agreeable to a limited extension of discovery solely for the purpose of Mr. Womack's deposition, provided that you have not already taken the ten depositions allowed under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

I have since been informed that Mr. Womack has returned to work at Curtiss-Wright and is currently working partial days.

Please confirm his employment status and availability for deposition.

Ms. Nelson:

We are writing to meet and confer regarding the scope of your Rule 30(b)(6) deposition notice. Rule 30(b)(6) requires that "the serving party and the organization must confer in good faith about the matters for examination." The Rule also requires a plaintiff to identify the topics with "reasonable particularity" because we have to make sure that we are producing a witness who is prepared to address the topics that you've identified.

To that end, there are several topics where we aren't exactly sure what you are referring to or intending to ask about and we need some clarification from you. We'd be glad to schedule a quick call to talk through these issues, if that would be easier. Otherwise, please provide some clarification so that we can have a witness ready to address these topics. Those topics where we need additional clarification from you, include:

- Topic D: You state, "HR obtain statements from Stephanie Lanier, April James, or other employees about me in . . ." It is unclear if you want to know whether HR obtained statements about you from these individuals and what event you are referring to wherein HR requested statements. Please clarify to what event or time period that you are referring to and what, specifically, you are seeking from the witness so that we can prepare the witness to respond to this topic.
- Topic G. You state, "Was I instructed to be avoided by a coworker following our prior altercation." It is unclear here who the coworker is you are referring to and whether you are asking if Curtiss Wright instructed you to avoid the co-worker or vice versa. Please clarify this topic. Likewise, you ask "Were there other complaints about the same coworker's failure to perform assigned duties, and . . ." Please identify this co-worker by name and clarify whether you are seeking anything more than "other complains about the same coworker's failure to perform assigned duties."
- Topic H: Regarding social media monitoring and use, the CW representative will be able to address whether Curtiss Wright, as a company, has monitored, viewed, or tracked your social media use. The representative will not, however, be able to address whether any individual employees of Curtiss-Wright may have viewed your publicly available social media profiles. Please confirm that we are on the same page here in terms of the scope of your inquiry.

In addition to these questions, there are several topics that we ask you to revise or limit so that we can avoid the need to file a motion for protective order with the Court. Specifically:

- Topic E: You ask whether CW or its outside counsel communicated with Bonnie Hunt or Hunt Law. Curtiss Wright can address whether it had any communications with Hunt law, but a corporate representative is not going to have knowledge of whether Jackson Lewis did so, and so the witness will not be able address that part of your topic. We ask that you remove the reference to Jackson Lewis from this topic. I will also note that you have requested via discovery copies of all communications between Jackson Lewis and Hunt law. Though we maintain that such communications have no relevance to the claims in this case, we intend to produce those communications to clear up any concerns you may have related to those communications.
- Topic E: You ask for billing records related to time spent communicating with Hunt law. It is unclear whose billing records you are referring to. If you are seeking the billing records of Jackson Lewis, then those would be protected by the attorney-client privilege and we ask that you withdraw this topic.

In addition, as Joe pointed out in his email below from last week, we are construing the document request that accompanied the 30(b)(6) notice as a fourth request for production of documents and will respond within the 30 days allotted for document requests.

We look forward to your response.

Good morning, Ms. Nelson,

We received your Amended Notice of the Rule 30(b)(6) Deposition of Curtiss-Wright, which includes an Exhibit B that was not part of the original notice. Exhibit B asks the witness to produce documents that were not requested in any of your prior Requests for Production. A Rule 30(b)(6) deposition notice may not be used to compel the production of documents from a named party; such requests must be made pursuant to Rule 34. See Hart v. Safeco Ins. Co., 2017 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 58855 (D.S.C. Apr. 18, 2017) (recognizing that Rule 34 provides the procedure for obtaining documents from a party to a case and rejecting argument that document requests can be accomplished through a deposition notice). Under Rule 34, a party has 30 days to respond to requests for documents. Accordingly, to the extent Exhibit B seeks documents not previously requested in your first three Requests for Production, we will treat Exhibit B as a Fourth Request for Production of Documents, and will respond under Rule 34 by October 30th.

Subject: Re: Nelson v. Curtiss Wright Electro Mechanical Corp., et al

When I recently contacted Mr. Womack regarding his availability, he indicated that he was not aware of the scheduled deposition. Based on this information, it appears that defense counsel may not have informed him of his inclusion on the witness list.

Please confirm whether Curtiss-Wright will make Mr. Womack available for deposition prior to the current discovery deadline of 10/21/2025.

Counsel,

You previously advised that Mr. Womack was on “protected medical leave indefinitely” and unavailable for deposition.

I have since been informed that Mr. Womack has returned to work at Curtiss-Wright and is currently working partial days.

Please confirm his employment status and availability for deposition.

In light of this new information, I intend to proceed with his deposition as soon as practicable.

I am willing to conduct the deposition virtually or to accommodate scheduling needs, but absent confirmation of a legitimate medical restriction supported by documentation, I will move to compel his appearance under Rules 30 and 37.

Sincerely,

Debra Nelson

You indicated Mr. Womack is on medical leave “indefinitely.” Unless the Court enters a protective order limiting discovery, I intend to proceed with his deposition as previously noticed for October 21, 2025.

If Mr. Womack’s treating provider has certified that he is medically unable to testify, please provide documentation (without revealing private medical details) identifying the restriction and its expected duration. In the absence of such proof, I will proceed with the deposition or request a court order compelling his attendance.

I am willing to conduct the deposition virtually and to accommodate reasonable time limits or breaks.

Ms. Nelson:

We are writing to meet and confer regarding the scope of your Rule 30(b)(6) deposition notice. Rule 30(b)(6) requires that “the serving party and the organization must confer in good faith about the matters for examination.” The Rule also requires a plaintiff to identify the topics with “reasonable particularity” because we have to make sure that we are producing a witness who is prepared to address the topics that you’ve identified.

To that end, there are several topics where we aren’t exactly sure what you are referring to or intending to ask about and we need some clarification from you. We’d be glad to schedule a quick call to talk through these issues, if that would be easier. Otherwise, please provide some clarification so that we can have a witness ready to address these topics. Those topics where we need additional clarification from you, include:

- Topic D: You state, “HR obtain statements from Stephanie Lanier, April James, or other employees about me in . . .” It is unclear if you want to know whether HR obtained statements about you from these individuals and what event you are referring to wherein HR requested statements. Please clarify to what event or time period that you are referring to and what, specifically, you are seeking from the witness so that we can prepare the witness to respond to this topic.
- Topic G. You state, “Was I instructed to be avoided by a coworker following our prior altercation.” It is unclear here who the coworker is you are referring to and whether you are asking if Curtiss Wright instructed you to avoid the co-worker or vice versa. Please clarify this topic. Likewise, you ask “Were there other complaints about the same coworker’s failure to perform assigned duties, and . . .” Please identify this co-worker by name and clarify whether you are seeking anything more than “other complains about the same coworker’s failure to perform assigned duties.”
- Topic H: Regarding social media monitoring and use, the CW representative will be able to address whether Curtiss Wright, as a company, has monitored, viewed, or tracked your social media use. The representative will not, however, be able to address whether any individual employees of Curtiss-Wright may have viewed your publicly available social media profiles. Please confirm that we are on the same page here in terms of the scope of your inquiry.

In addition to these questions, there are several topics that we ask you to revise or limit so that we can avoid the need to file a motion for protective order with the Court. Specifically:

- Topic E: You ask whether CW or its outside counsel communicated with Bonnie Hunt or Hunt Law. Curtiss Wright can address whether it had any communications with Hunt law, but a corporate representative is not going to have knowledge of whether Jackson Lewis did so, and so the witness will not be able address that part of your topic. We ask that you remove the reference to Jackson Lewis from this topic. I will also note that you have requested via discovery copies of all communications between Jackson Lewis and Hunt law. Though we maintain that such communications have no relevance to the claims in this case, we intend to produce those communications to clear up any concerns you may have related to those communications.
- Topic E: You ask for billing records related to time spent communicating with Hunt law. It is unclear whose billing records you are referring to. If you are seeking the billing records of Jackson Lewis, then those would be protected by the attorney-client privilege and we ask that you withdraw this topic.

In addition, as Joe pointed out in his email below from last week, we are construing the document request that accompanied the 30(b)(6) notice as a fourth request for production of documents and will respond within the 30 days allotted for document requests.

We look forward to your response.

Good morning, Ms. Nelson,

We received your Amended Notice of the Rule 30(b)(6) Deposition of Curtiss-Wright, which includes an Exhibit B that was not part of the original notice. Exhibit B asks the witness to produce documents that were not requested in any of your prior Requests for Production. A Rule 30(b)(6) deposition notice may not be used to compel the production of documents from a named party; such requests must be made pursuant to Rule 34. See Hart v. Safeco Ins. Co., 2017 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 58855 (D.S.C. Apr. 18, 2017) (recognizing that Rule 34 provides the procedure for obtaining documents from a party to a case and rejecting argument that document requests can be accomplished through a deposition notice). Under Rule 34, a party has 30 days to respond to requests for documents. Accordingly, to the extent Exhibit B seeks documents not previously requested in your first three Requests for Production, we will treat Exhibit B as a Fourth Request for Production of Documents, and will respond under Rule 34 by October 30th.

Ms. Nelson,

This message is in response to your email dated Sunday, October 19, seeking to confirm the deposition of Jeff Womack; and two emails dated Friday, October 17, seeking additional untimely discovery that you previously sought on October 15th. I will respond to each below.

In Sunday's email you state that you received information that Mr. Womack has returned to work, is available for deposition, and requested that we confirm by COB on October 20 that he will be produced for deposition on a mutually agreeable date. You advised that if we maintained our position that Mr. Womack is currently unavailable and will not be produced that you will file a Motion to Compel his attendance.

As we have stated on numerous occasions, Mr. Womack is out on medical leave through November 2, but we will produce him for deposition once he returns provided that -- at that point -- his deposition does not exceed the 10 depositions allowed to you by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. To the extent that you intend to file a Motion to Compel because we maintain that Mr. Womack is on medical leave and cannot be produced for a deposition tomorrow, the Court has already ruled on this issue and denied your motion on Friday. If you have not yet received a copy of that Order, please let us know, and we can provide you a copy. If you file a duplicative Motion to Compel after we have made you aware of this, and we are forced to respond, then we will move for attorneys' fees for the unnecessary costs incurred in responding to the motion.

In Friday's emails you stated that your untimely requests for (1) the unredacted DARs of Brian Fogarty and Michelle Broman-Bolton and (2) Badge-Entry and Exit Logs (Facility Access Reports) for the period of October 6-17, 2025, for 8 Curtiss-Wright employees were not subject to Rule 34(b)(2)(A), but you proceeded to formally serve Defendants with these requests for production pursuant to Rule 34. Under Rule 34, Defendants are entitled to 30 days to respond to written discovery. Because these discovery requests were served less than 30 days before the close of discovery, they are untimely and Defendants do not intend to respond to them.

That said, Defendants produced the unredacted DARs that you requested in the document production we sent on October 15, and so you should now have those documents.

And your request for badge swipes for certain Curtiss-Wright employees who you are deposing this week covering the last few weeks have no bearing whatsoever on your claims in this case. Your request seemingly serves no purpose other than to burden Curtiss-Wright or seek personal information about the deponents. Defendants do not intend to produce these records or respond further to your untimely discovery.

Dear Mr. Samples and Mr. Valenza,

1 Q. Can you spell that?

2 A. A-M-E-N-T-U-M.

3 Q. What was your position at Amentum?

4 A. NDT.

5 Q. When did you start working there?

6 A. It wasn't long after. Oh, I started working
7 there, I believe, November 18th, because I had -- when I
8 had quit, I was already -- I was already looking for a
9 job and I was just waiting for my background check to 10 come back.

11 And so I started, like, November 18th of 2024.

12 Q. And do you still work for Amentum?

13 A. Yes.

14 Q. Where is that job located at?

15 A. It's out of state.

16 Q. What state is it in?

17 A. It's in Florida.

18 Q. Are you currently living in Florida or is it a
19 remote position that you're doing from South Carolina?

20 A. No, I'm in South Carolina.

21 Q. So you're doing that job remotely?

22 A. I'm on leave.

23 Q. Okay. How long have you been on leave?

24 A. For a couple of months.

25 Q. When did your leave start?

1 A. August 7th.

2 Q. What kind of leave are you on?

3 A. A leave of absence.

4 Q. Is it a medical leave?

5 A. Yeah, basically.

6 Q. What's the reason for your medical leave?

7 A. Anxiety and stress.

8 Q. Is it a paid leave of absence?

9 A. I object.

10 Q. This goes directly to your claim for lost
11 wages.

12 A. It has nothing to do with Curtiss-Wright so I
13 object to the question.

14 Q. You still have to answer.

15 A. It's intrusive.

16 Q. So are you refusing to answer my question?

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. And again, we'll just file a motion to compel
19 your testimony. I don't remember my specific question.

20 MR. SAMPLES: What was my last question? I'm 21 sorry.

23 BY MR. SAMPLES:

24 Q. I'll ask it again. Are you currently on a
25 paid leave of absence with your current employer?

1 Q. Are you inserting any claims in this case for
2 emotional distress damages?

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. Have you received any type of treatment with 5 any medical provider related to your mental health?

6 A. I do have one.

7 Q. Who is your provider?

8 A. Sue Shealy.

9 Q. Is she a psychiatrist, counselor? What does
10 she do?

11 A. She's a licensed clinical social worker.

12 Q. And when did you start seeing Ms. Shealy?

13 A. I've been seeing Ms. Shealy for quite some 14 time. I think it was back in 2012, 2013, something like
15 that, and I basically just go as needed.

16 Q. Is she like a therapist?

17 A. Yeah, she's a therapist.

18 Q. So were you seeing her before you started
19 working at Curtiss-Wright?

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. Did you see her during your employment at 22 Curtiss-Wright?

23 A. Oh, yes. She knows about everything going on.

24 Q. Have you seen her since your employment with 25 Curtiss-Wright ended?
